

Non-violent relationship breakdown housing advice in Allerdale

“Allerdale – a great place to live, work and visit”

Housing rights in a relationship breakdown can be complicated and you may need to seek advice before leaving your property.

If you have a joint tenancy or own a property with your ex-partner you may still have rights to occupy the place you are living in together.

To check what your rights are contact the Housing Options service at Allerdale Borough Council on 0303 123 1702.

There are several places you could visit for advice:

Shelter has produced a guide for people who have experienced a relationship breakdown and what their housing rights are after splitting up. You can visit their website at england.shelter.org.uk or contact them by telephone on: 0344 515 1944.

The Allerdale Citizens Advice Bureau offer general and legal advice and help. Contact them at citizensadviceallerdale.org.uk or phone 01900 604735.

If you've decided that you need to find a new home, you will need to register on the housing register at www.cumbriachoice.org.uk and contact Westfield Housing Association on 01900 602906 or visit www.westfieldha.org.uk
